

Abstract of the Disclosure

An apparatus for applying a plastic film to a surface such as a carpet is provided which includes a handle, frame, film roll dispenser, guide bar, at least one roller and a trailing roller. The trailing roller supports the apparatus off of the roller to allow the apparatus to be pulled back against the stair to smooth the film against the front of the stair.